SET $183,741 COUNTY QUOTA IN BOND DRIVE

Adams county's quota in the forthcoming "Opportunity Drive" to sell $1,040,000 worth of U. S. Savings Bonds throughout the county is $183,741, Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman, announced today following a meeting and Governor Duff's dinner for key officials of Pennsylvania's saving bonds committees at the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg, Tuesday afternoon and evening. Pennsylvania's quota was announced as $82,600,000. The drive opens May 16 and continues through June 30.

Arthur E. Bair, cashier of the Littlestown national bank and C. D. Krout, cashier of the East Berlin national bank, are the co-chairmen of the county banking and investment committee, Mr. Thomas said.

Chairman Thomas said that he will announce his other chairmen in the early future and that he probably will call a general meeting of the county group several days before the opening of the campaign.

An intensive drive is to be conducted by each county committee, E. A. Roberts, state advisory chairman, told the bond-selling volunteers at the pre-dinner conference Tuesday afternoon. He said the slogan for the drive is: "The dollars you save today are the dollars that may save you tomorrow. Only the productive and thrifty can be strong. Only the strong can be free."

Expresses Confidence
In Adams county, Mr. Thomas said, the drive will be coordinated through the banks, payroll savings, labor, retail, women, agriculture and education.

"I am confident that Adams county will attain its quota in the forthcoming savings bond drive," Mr. Thomas said.

GROWERS URGE SENATE TO PASS APPLE TAX BILL

John B. Peters, Gardner R. D., vice president of the Knouse Fruit Products cooperative and head of the Cooperative Fruit Growers association of Adams county, was a principal witness this morning before the state Senate Agriculture committee as it opened hearings at Harrisburg on the proposed apple tax bill.

Peters and Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale, past president of the State Horticultural Association, which is backing the bill, were among the Adams countians on a committee which presented petitions urging passage of the bill.

While the local growers, representing producers of about 2,000,000 bushels of apples yearly in Adams county, favored a tax on apples, there was some opposition voiced by some farmers before the committee today.

To Decide Later

The Associated Press reported from Harrisburg that apple growers from more than a dozen apple producing counties in the state voiced the contrasting views at the hearing held by the Senate committee on a House-passed bill proposing the tax.

The tax would be levied on all growers, with every farmer allowed an exemption for the first 500 bushels. The funds would be collected by the state and used for research and development of Pennsylvania's apple industry. A special board would be set up in the Department of Agriculture to administer the law.

Chairman George B. Scarlett (R-Chester), said after the meeting that his committee would meet later this week to decide on the question of reporting to decide on the question for a vote.

Questions Workability
Scarlett told the growers that his committee wanted to find out "just how this act might be properly administered."

"What bothers us most," he explained, "is whether the proposal is workable."

Peters, representing Adams apple growers, urged passage of the bill "as a forward step toward rejuvenating Pennsylvania's apple industry." Peters said the state's apple industry is facing "stiff competition" from industries in other states, and asserted the tax is needed to raise funds "to meet this critical competition."

However, R. T. Criswell, of Chambersburg, an independent grower, asserted that "I am of the opinion we can get along well enough on a voluntary basis without imposing this tax." Criswell stated that the levy might establish a "bad precedent" through which other agricultural industries in the state might also seek to have the state levy similar taxes for their benefit. "This thing could go on and on," he declared. "It is another step toward regimentation."

SEEK MAN WHO GAVE $805 TO INEZ BRENNAN FOR FARM HERE

Salisbury, Md., April 20 (AP)—Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt is holding 15 letters and postcards he said were written to a Wicomico county farmer in 1947 by Mrs. Inez Brennan, central figure in Delaware's "Lonely Hearts" murder cases.

The sheriff said the chicken farmer, Fred W. Schub, left the county last year—and he does not know the man's present whereabouts.

Pollitt plans to question Schub's former neighbors to see if they have heard from him. He said he believes the man may have gone to North or South Carolina.

Delaware police announced yesterday that Mrs. Brennan, a 42-year-old brunette, confessed shooting one victim and ordering her youngest son, Robert, 15, to shoot another.

Down Payment on Farm
Sheriff Pollitt told this story:

In the fall of 1947, Schub, a man in his 60's, brought the letters and postcards to the sheriff's office.

Schub told of how he and Mrs. Brennan had corresponded. Eventually she had visited him.

He gave her $805 as down payment for a farm on which they would live near Gettysburg, Pa.

"Moving To Farm"
Then, the letters ceased for a time. Finally, he got a postcard, signed "I. B."

It read: "Writing this on the moving van going to the new farm," and said that the journey would take a week.

The postcard was dated September 2, 1947. That was the last Schub heard from Mrs. Brennan.

He took the missives to the sheriff that fall to see if he could locate the woman, and possibly get his $805 back.

Sheriff Pollitt described the others as "typical lonely hearts" letters.

FELLER FAILS AS CLEVELAND LOSES OPENER

(By The Associated Press)

Bobby Feller's failure is the most disturbing note of the major league baseball openers, which otherwise read like a carbon copy of 1948.

A year ago Bobby pitched a two-hit shutout opening day as the Cleveland Indians rushed into a six-game winning streak. Before they stopped winning, they were world champions.

Yesterday Feller was yanked after two innings because of wildness and a sore arm. He yielded one run as the Indians lost to the upstart St. Louis Browns, 5-1. Ned Garver scattered seven hits to beat the champs before 12,817, the Browns' largest opening crowd in 15 years.

"Throwing too hard too soon gave me a little trouble," Feller said afterwards. "Three to five days rest and a few warm days should have me back in shape."

Otherwise things were normal.

Sewell Wins 10th

Rip Sewell of Pittsburgh resumed his favorite job—beating the Chicago Cubs. He scored his 10th opening day triumph, 1-0. Lou Brissie, the Philadelphia A's brilliant second-year man, repeated his 1948 rookie job of spoiling the opener for the Boston Red Sox, 3-2. Larry Jansen of the New York Giants continued to find it tough to whip Brooklyn, losing 10-3 under a deluge of homers by Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo.

With Outfielder Joe DiMaggio on the bench in street clothes, the New York Yankees shaded Washington, 3-2, on a ninth-inning home run by Tommy Henrich.

Both the Indians and Red Sox, picked 1-2 by 112 of 120 baseball writers participating in the annual Associated Press pennant poll, were beaten. It was the old story for the Sox who dropped five of their first six starts a year ago.

Chapman Saves Brissie

The Athletics' Brissie, the boy with the war-shattered leg, was hard pressed in the late innings but a great catch by Sam Chapman on Bobby Doerr's long drive in the eighth got him out of trouble.

Eddie Joost hit a game-winning homer off Joe Dobson in the seventh inning to square the A's at 1-1 for the season before 19,897 at Shibe Park.

Cleveland's pitching staff, tabbed "best in baseball," used Feller, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and Satchel Paige against the Browns. Feller gave only one hit, a triple by Jack Graham, but walked three.

The largest crowd was 53,435, a Briggs Stadium opening record, that came to see the Detroit Tigers thump the Chicago White Sox, 5-1. Rookie Johnny Groth, the Buffalo sensation, broke in the right way with a pair of home runs on successive times at bat against Al Gettel.

Hal Newhouser, who whipped the Philadelphia Phillies twice, 4-3 and 11-2 before a Patriots' Day crowd of 30,337.

Cincinnati capitalized on errors to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1. All the Reds' runs were unearned and came on errors by Nippy Jones and Tommy Giaviano. The Cards' Harry Brecheen was the mound victim. The crowd at Cincinnati was 32,118.

EAST BERLIN 9 DOWNS HANOVER

East Berlin high school's undefeated baseball team chalked up its third successive victory Tuesday afternoon by defeating Hanover high 6-0 in a game played at Hanover. The game was switched to the Nighthawk field due to the East Berlin diamond being wet.

Bill Moul, star East Berlin hurler, won his second straight shutout with a two-hit performance and fanned 15 batters. Moul has yielded but four hits and no runs in 16 innings this season.

Coach Warren Zimmerman's outfit pushed over three runs in the second frame and two more in the fourth to make the going easy for Moul.

Rightmire permitted East Berlin but three hits although he yielded seven bases on balls. Four Hanover errors also were costly.

On Friday East Berlin is host to Boiling Springs in the opening of the Adams County Scholastic League.

Roundabout report from California says Bing Crosby has convinced Jackie Jensen, U. of Cal. full-back-pitcher-slugger, that he should accept a $25,000 bonus from the Pirates after the current college baseball season ends.

The American Institute of Steel Construction reports that 356,500 new stadium seats have been built or contracted for since stadium building was resumed in 1947.

Skip Walz, Yale's crew coach, has abandoned the idea of having his men move their oars as fast as their coach moves his tongue.

He's adopting a slow beat in hopes of beating Harvard at New London for the first time since 1935.

Ohio State football fans are counting heavily on Vic Janowicz, who'll be a sophomore next fall, to do everything but sweep out the stadium.

A generation ago painters bought colors, lead and zinc in dry powder form and ground them in oil through hand mills as needed.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 20 (AP)—A lot of golf pros snicker at George Schreiner's idea of staging "Minor League" open tournaments.

They figure it costs a minimum of $200 a week to make the tour and a guy would be silly to shoot for less than the $10,000 minimum purses for a tournament.

But at Augusta someone was asking what had become of the kids who used to hit the trail in an old jalopy, sleeping in it if they had to, and eating in crumb joints, hoping to pick up a little cash and fame.

They could borrow a few hundred bucks from a club member and, with luck, survive the whole winter tour.

Several of them reached the top that way. The "kids" you see in tournaments now are around 30 years.

Maybe a regular round of tournaments too small to attract the bigshots would bring out a new crop of hungry 20-year-olds.

And you'd be sure of plenty of hot competition if every player figured he'd have to win or thumb his way back home.

SHOT STORY
Penn State's new basketball coaching combination of Elmer Gross and assistant John Egli won't be greatly perturbed when and if the alumni sharpshooting begins.

Both are Purple Heart veterans who have been under more serious fire.

Gross was wounded at St. Lo shortly after the Normandy landings and Egli was wounded at Bastogne several months later.

The ceremony was solemnized by

The bride, who is a teacher in the Meade school here, was attended by

That the extensive remodeling op-

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
SELF-MASTERY

The one great objective in life, for each one of us, is to gain self-mastery. That, in itself, is a life job, and the most important. One's own happiness and success depend upon this one thing.

Edwin Grant Conklin, the eminent American biologist, once wrote that "when children are taught not merely to know things but particularly to know themselves, not merely how to do things but especially how to compel themselves to do things, they may be said to be really educated."

We are endowed with a masterful power in that of the will. It is this will to do that makes us do. It is what has been the contributing factor in all great and successful lives.
It is the secret of self-mastery. Anyone who has become the master of himself can easily be an influence and power for the uplifting of many others—far more than he ever realizes.

A famous neurologist has said that this knowing of oneself "is the principal science of life." Yet how little we know about this science!
The more we learn of the reactions to the good and wholesome acts of our nature the higher we get in the scale of progress and self-mastery. In other words, we grow by learning.

We can only gain that peace of mind for which we all strive, not by "rejecting passions which are unruly, but only by recognizing, and sub-limating them," as J. Arthur Hadfield has so well said. And I like that saying of William James in his wonderful chapter on "Habit"—"Keep the faculty of effort alive in you by a little gratuitous exercise every day."

We need have little worry about the upshot of our success in life if we will ourselves each day of our lives to become just a little more master of ourselves, under complete self-control. It will do us little good to keep our eyes upon someone else. We alone are the object of our fate, our individual happiness, and our success.

The most famous utterance that Socrates ever uttered were those two words: "Know thyself!" And they can well supplement those of Shakespeare: "This above all: to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Art of Walking"

Suppose, when you sat down to write,
As I, from day to day,
And time was quickly taking flight,
A three-year-old should say:
"I want to sit upon your knee,"
Would you the last dismiss Or let your copy ruined be
With writing such as this:
(zzpbqDeGIme)?

Suppose you'd stayed too long in bed,
Or out too late at night,
And had the notion in your head
You'd settle down to write,
Would you let little fingers stray
Along the lettered keys
And spoil your labor for the day
With words that look like these:
(zzHfOaeaxwqARLC)?

Well, I suppose I should have frowned
And said: "Be on your way!
I'm busy, and you mustn't pound
A single key today."
But such a winsome miss is she,
So tearful were her pleas,
I let my copy ruined be
With scribbles such as these:
(xyz???f(KGcLm)).

PROTECT WIDOW WHO GAVE FIRST
TIP IN "LONELY HEART" DEATHS

Dover Del., April 20 (AP) — State police disclosed today they are keeping in protective custody a young woman credited with supplying the initial break in Delaware's "Lonely Hearts" slayings.

State Police Col. Herbert Barnes
previously announced that Mrs. Inez Brennan, 43-year-old brunette, signed a statement admitting she plotted the deaths of two elderly men and later burned and buried their bodies with the aid of her three sons.

Barnes hinted that the first break in the case came from Mrs. Dolly Thompson Dean, 26-year-old former nurse's aid who had accompanied Mrs. Brennan to her farm after an operation last year.

Told Of "Strange Doings"
The state police official said Mrs.
Dean, who left the Brennan farm recently, told him of "strange doings" at the Brennan place but added she had not reported her fears to police because she was afraid she might be harmed.

Questioned by reporters about Mrs. Dean's whereabouts Barnes said "we are taking care of her," adding "I am not ready to release any other information about this young woman."

In announcing Mrs. Brennan's statement, Barnes said she met Wade N. Woodruff, 70, of Bedford,
Va., and Hugo Schultz, 66, Epsom, N. H., through Lonely Hearts correspondence and lured them to their deaths to rob them. Police are investigating a number of letters they found on the Brennan farm.

Bodies Burned Later
Barnes said Mrs. Brennan admitted shooting one victim and ordering her youngest son, Robert, 15, to shoot the other. Robert has signed two statements, Barnes said, one detailing the shooting of Woodruff and the second telling of Schultz's death.

Robert was quoted by Barnes as saying he shot Woodruff last October at his mother's order, and adding his mother and half-brothers, Raymond, 23, and George, 19, buried the body in a pigpen.

The state police official said Robert in his second statement said he went to Schultz's New England farm with his mother and that she shot Schultz after Robert refused to do so.

"Saved my Life"
A God-send for GAS-HEARTBURN!

gas, sour stomach and heartburn, doctors usually prescribe the fast-acting medicine known as Bellans Tablets. No laxative. Bellans brings comfort in a jiffy or returns bottle to us for double money back. 50¢
BELL-ANS for Acid Indigestion 25¢

Barnes quoted Robert as saying Mrs. Brennan sold most of Schultz's goods, loaded his body on his truck and the family returned to Delaware.
Barnes said Schultz's body was buried beside Woodruff in the pigpen. Later, he added, both bodies were dug up, burned and the remains scattered on a city dump.

Charges of first degree murder have been filed against Mrs. Brennan and Robert in the Woodruff case, Barnes said. Raymond has been charged with being an accessory, the same charge which is to be filed against George, now in the army, Barnes said.

20 BRITISH ARE CASUALTIES IN YANGTZE FIGHT

Shanghai, April 20 (AP)—At least 20 British seamen were killed or wounded today by fire from Chinese shore batteries on the sloop Amethyst in the Yangtze river.

The 2,500-ton British warship, proceeding from Shanghai to Nanking, was set afire and grounded on Rose Island near Chinkiang, Yangtze hot spot in the Chinese civil war.

Chinkiang is 60 miles northeast of Nanking and upstream 160 miles from Shanghai.

Send Frigate To Scene
It was not known whether the shore batteries were Communist or Nationalist. The Communists line the north bank, the Nationalists the south. Neither was it known whether the British answered the shore guns.

In London, the Admiralty said a British destroyer "replied effectively" to heavy artillery fire as it steamed down the Yangtze river from Nanking to aid a grounded British sloop hit by Chinese artillery.

The destroyer was the H. H. S. Consort.

The statement added that the frigate H. M. S. Black Swan is racing to the aid of the grounded Amethyst from Shanghai and that the 10,000-ton cruiser H. M. S. London is expected to arrive at Shanghai from sea later today.

The Admiralty did not say whether the crew of the Consort suffered any casualties.

A British embassy spokesman in Nanking said the destroyer Consort reached the Amethyst about 3:30 p. m. (2:30 a. m. EST). He said no direct report had been received from the sloop since it was fired upon. Presumably its radio had been knocked out.

First reports to British naval and consulate sources here said the Amethyst suffered heavy damage and "many casualties." Later a British embassy spokesman in Nanking said known casualties totalled 20 men. He did not know how many, if any, were dead.

The Amethyst, comparable to an American light destroyer, carried a complement of eight officers and 140 men, the Nanking naval attaché said.

$13.75-14, some held higher; good 400-450 pounds, $12.75-13; over 450 pounds, $11.75-12; odd stags were generally discounted $2 from price paid for some weight sows; bulk all weight ranges, sold at outside quotations; narrow outlet again noted for garbage-discounted hogs with most offerings discounted $2 from price of some weight grain-fed shipments.

SHEEP—25. Nothing in early quotations, nominally unchanged; good and choice spring lambs, considered eligible to $82 or better; good and choice old crop wooled lambs, $28; same grade wooled ewes, $12.50.

Legislative Storm Blows Up Over Moves To Restrict Local Tax Powers

FIGHT CENTERS OVER MOVES TO CHANGE '47 ACT

Harrisburg, April 20 (AP)—A legislative storm blew up today around moves to restrict the authority of local communities to levy taxes under a 1947 law.

The fight centered around a proposal to take away Pittsburgh's authority to impose a two mill retail mercantile tax under the controversial local tax law. Sen. Joseph Barr (D-Allegheny) estimated the change would cost Pittsburgh $500,000 a year in revenue.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Theodore Doehla (R-Allegheny) and immediately won Republican majority support. But action on the amendment and the bill itself was held up due to Barr's announcement he would fight it to the bitter end.

Was Ready For Vote

Barr, who voted for the administration's state tax program was reported ready to carry the fight to Gov. James H. Duff if necessary.

The bill revising the 1947 local tax law was ready for a vote when the unexpected difficulties arose. It would bar local taxes on coal and other natural resources, manufactured and farm products and the earned income of non-residents of municipalities imposing wage taxes.

The only municipality exempt from the 1947 law is Philadelphia but its wage tax on non-residents was threatened from another direction. Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) won some Republican support for a measure designed to prohibit any municipality from taxing earnings of persons residing outside its boundaries, effective January 1, 1951.

Philadelphia Ire Stirred

The measure and the GOP support for it at a closed majority caucus raised such ire from Philadelphia Republican Senators that action on the measure had to be delayed. The proposal would reduce Philadelphia tax revenues an estimated $10,000,000 annually.

Watkins said after the caucus that he was surprised at the support his measure had aroused on the Republican side.

And the Senate local government committee added another string to its bow in its attempt to end any abuses under the 1947 local tax law by approving for a Senate vote two measures proposing separate changes in the disputed law.

The key measure would not establish exemptions but also impose ceilings on permissive taxes. It was over the proposed one and a half mill ceiling on retail mercantile levies that the Pittsburgh row began developing.

As approved by the committee, the measure would exempt Pittsburgh from this ceiling but Senator Doehla's amendment would remove that.

Relief Change Dies

Other ceilings include a 10 per cent top for amusement taxes, a $10 limit on per capita taxes and a one per cent wage tax.

In the House, a vote was slated on an administration measure to continue the state soft drink tax on carbonated water after June 1.

The Senate, meanwhile, formally ended any chance of action this year on a proposal to shift a fifth of the cost of relief to counties and give them complete control of administration. The measure was returned to committee for further study.

But a proposal for an investigation by the General Assembly's joint state government commission into the entire public assistance program won Senate support.

Teacher Pay Passes

The resolution directing the inquiry noted that $225,000,000 in federal aid state funds will be spent in two years and added:

"The expenditure of these large sums for such purpose is open to serious question. Good government dictates that such terrific expenditures of public money ought to be analyzed very carefully."

The House unanimously passed and sent to the Senate a bill giving most of Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers a $200 a year boost in pay and establishing the highest mandated teacher salaries in the state's history.

The Senate also passed a measure to increase state grants to pay for the teachers' pay boost. It increased maximum state subsidies to $2,450 a teaching unit next year and $3,350 a unit for the 1950-51 school term when grants are based on market values of real estate in school districts instead of assessed valuations.

SENATORS SEEK HOW OTHER HALF LIVES NEARBY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 20 (AP)—"When you ain't got it, you ain't got it," the negro man said mildly, meaning money. He was leaning against a battered shack a few blocks from the Capitol.

He was trying to explain why people lived in the slums of Washington, thousands of people, whites and negroes, but mostly negroes. What kind of work did they do? "Mostly ketch as ketch can," the man said. He was looking at senators policemen, newspaper reporters and a doctor while raggedy negro children played around them and hit at one another with sticks.

Quick Tour Near Capitol
A negro girl got up and hobbled off the steps. Her legs were bent with rickets. She had a foolish, happy smile. She might have been 15 or 35. "An imbecile," the doctor told the others quietly.

The group was making a quick tour of the slums in Washington that spread out around the Capitol. The slums start within 100 feet of the Senate office building.

They were being taken around by Senator Paul Douglas, Illinois Democrat. The others in the party were one Democrat, Senator Green of Rhode Island, and these Republican Senators: Morse of Oregon, Ferguson of Michigan, and Baldwin of Connecticut.

Had Been Debating
They had just come from Senate debate on a bill to provide public housing and wipe out slums in the cities of America. They wanted to see slums first hand in the nation's capital.

They went into a house where 13 people sleep in three beds in two rooms. . . . A man, his wife, nine children, one grandchild, and the man's grandfather. . . . No lights except an oil lamp, no heat except a coal stove in the kitchen. . . . No running water. The water is in the yard. So is the toilet. The yard is heaped with rubbish.

The plaster was off the walls. . . . The windows were broken. . . . The furniture was claptrap junk. . . . Outside in the yard the grandfather was lying on a bare bedspring, warming himself in the sun. One leg was off at the knee.

With his age and his one leg he couldn't work. He makes no money at all? No. How much does his son make? One buck yesterday, maybe no buck today. He delivers coal when he can.

How did the grandfather lose his leg? "T-B of the bone," the old man said.

Lots of Disease
"An awful lot of people die of tuberculosis in the slums," the doctor told the Senators. "And there's Harrisburg, April 20 (AP)—Employer taxes for unemployment compensation would be figured out in a new way under a Senate measure which reached the House today.

a lot of venereal disease."

The police captain said they found a man frozen to death in one of the outside toilets last winter. . . .

The party went from slum to slum, row after row of them. . . . Row after row of outside toilets and outside water pipes. . . . Yards heaped with rubbish. . . .

I asked many negro men and women what was the highest pay anyone in their row of houses got. The highest I heard anyone say was $35 a week, when a man had regular work. . . . The rent ran from $12 to $30 a month.

"SMOG" TESTS MAKE 90 ILL; MANY LEAVE

Donora, Pa., April 20 (AP)—More than 90 persons were ill today and a dozen others had left town as government experts tried to duplicate smog conditions suspected of causing 22 deaths last fall.

Doctors reported numerous causes of hoarseness, sore throats and coughs as the public health service sought for the third day to determine if the suffocation cases last October were caused by a combination of smoke and fog.

Through the tests, the government agency hopes to prevent a recurrence of the October tragedy.

Some Leave Town

As a result of the deaths last fall the zinc smelters of American Steel & Wire company were closed down. They were re-opened last Monday so that resulting fumes could be observed in connection with the tests.

Dr. William Rongaus, Donora borough health officer, said the effects reported by residents yesterday were "like the early symptoms during the smog."

Some persons have left town for the period of the test, particularly those suffering from asthmatic and heart ills. These were particularly vulnerable last October.

Worst sufferer yesterday was the little town of Webster, just across the Monongahela river from Donora. Prevailing winds blew from Donora toward Webster yesterday and citizens there said they got the full effect of the fumes issuing from the zinc plant.

"Too Successful"

The Webster Society for Better Living, which had asked the government to make the test, held an emergency meeting last night. Members agreed the test, perhaps, was succeeding "too well." There was some talk of asking the government to call it off but no action was taken.

Allen Kline, secretary, said the society advised Webster parents to keep children home from school or take them out of town until the test is over. If they do so, Kline said, the society would take "responsibility for absences."

Kline said 25 Webster folk had sought medical treatment and about half of them had left town. A Webster nurse said she treated two persons for nausea and headache. She said she received phone calls from 56 others reporting similar troubles.

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

The Story Of A School

By Elliott Taylor

Vice President of the Upper Adams School District

The subjects that are taught in the upper Adams schools are designed for the kind of people and the kind of a community that the schools are built to serve. Faddish and fantastic theories of education that sometimes plague and perplex both parents and pupils are conspicuously absent from the jointure. Boys who aspire to be farmers can take sound and sensible courses in vocational agriculture starting when they enter high school; those with a bent for the mechanical have competent shop instruction, using the most modern equipment. Domestic science and the serious art of homemaking are taught the girls. Commercial courses fit their graduates for early introduction into the business world. And for those who are interested in general cultural subjects, often in preparation for college and university study, there are general and academic branches of study to be followed.

Over every subject and activity is the guiding principle that all schooling is fundamentally training for better citizenship. Under this philosophy, sports and drama and music have as definite a place in the educational scheme as do arithmetic, chemistry and Latin.

Guidance is stressed as a prime responsibility of the faculty. Through class instruction and personal counsel the most qualified teachers seek constantly to help every pupil find his own answers to any problem that confronts him.

As courses and enrollment have grown, building has been hard put to keep pace. The lack of an adequate elementary center north of Biglerville has made it necessary to keep two-room schools open at Bendersville, Wernersville and at Locust Grove. Here three grades are taught to a room, a situation that is not in the best interests of the pupils, and which is now being studied with a view of correcting it. A strategically located six-room elementary unit in Bendersville has been suggested as one solution.

Grade school rooms in the Biglerville Elementary unit are already crowded beyond the limits of efficient operation, and temporary quarters are being rented in a local store building.

The worst situations are being taken care of first. For this reason a nine-room addition to the Biglerville High school unit is already under construction, and should be ready for use in the next school year. Overcrowding in both high school and junior high had here reached the place where it was worse than inefficient—it threatened to be detrimental to the health and safety of the pupils. The Musselman Memorial Gymnasium at Biglerville, which has just been completed, will be adequate for many years to come.

Other trends that may influence the school program in the not too distant future will be the demand from the public for the addition of a kindergarten. Thirteenth and fourteenth years of instruction in the form of a junior college may one day be added. School services may become available during the entire year—evenings as well as daytime.

Through the school planning commission the joint board of the Upper Adams School District hopes to achieve a closer unity between the schools and their patrons. How soon the plans will mature into better facilities for the children of the communities or indeed whether they will ever grow into anything but plans is for the citizens and patrons of the Upper Adams School District to decide.

Goodyear Church Adds Five Members

Five persons were received into church membership and six infants were baptized Sunday morning at Mt. Zion Lutheran church, Good-year, the Rev. P. J. Horick, pastor.

Received into membership were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hulock, Mrs. Lester Beam and Glenn and Clair Murray. Infants baptized included Wayne Bruce Weidner, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Weidner; Beverly Ann May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. May; Robert Glenn Starnes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Starnes; Karen Janet Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Murray; Barbara Louise Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Peck and Suzanne Smyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Eugene Smyers.

A total of 188,780 fans watched the 24 games played by the Notre Dame basketball team last season, a new school record.

YEAR-AROUND SCHEDULE NEAR AT ADAMS APPLE

If present plans work out, the Adams Apple corporation plant at Aspers will become the first processing plant in the county to work on a 12-month schedule, Stanley W. Mann announced today.

This year the plant is adding to its production peas, lima beans and corn, and next spring will add spinach. If the seasons extend beyond the normal time, the plant should start on a 12-month schedule when it begins operation next month, and continue thereafter on a year-around schedule depending upon the normal crop conditions and demand for the product. Mann said that if the proposed plan works out approximately 70 per cent of the plant's employees will have year around jobs.

This year will mark the first time that peas, lima beans and corn have been processed by Adams Apple. Last year, peas and limas were frozen, but the work was done for the Campbell company rather than under the Adams Apple label.

Thanks Farmers
Present plans call for 100,000 dozen ears of corn on the cob to be frozen in addition to one million pounds of cut corn. Mann stated that frozen corn-on-the-cob is one of the biggest selling items on the frozen foods market at the present time.

He thanked county farmers for their response for additional acreage and noted that the company has already closed its acreage on peas for this year and expects to close its acreage on lima beans and corn by the end of this month.

20 Million Pounds
This fall the company plans to seek spinach acreage and expects to start freezing spinach next spring.

All told, Mann said, the company plans to freeze between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 pounds of food products during the coming year. Extra fancy quality products will go into retail packages while fancy and extra standard grades will be used as raw materials in soups and baby foods, Mann said. He pointed out that standard grades have no place in the frozen food lines adding that "it is simply unsellable."

Avoid One-Crop Program
The processing schedule as set up now and depending upon when crops mature is as follows: May, strawberries; June and July, peas; July, cherries; July, August, and September, lima beans, corn and tomatoes; September through February, apples and broccoli and March, April and May, spinach, early broccoli and, in May, strawberries again.

Mann also announced plans to pack for the first time this year fancy pack, whole tomatoes.

One of the advantages of the increased types of food processing will be the provision of a better rotation for farmers who sell wholly or in part to the Aspers company, Mann said. He also added that one purpose of increasing the number of types of foods processed is to get away from the one-crop program of handling only fruits with its ever-present danger both to grower and processor, of a single freeze wiping out most of the crop.

FARM CALENDAR

Use Good Plants—Gardeners when buying plants should insist on well-developed root systems because no plant is better than its roots. J. H. Boyd, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, urges use of transplants rather than seedlings. Select short, stocky plants hardened to outdoor temperatures.

Turn on Lights—Now that the days are longer, artificial lighting for laying hens may be discontinued, reminds C. O. Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Turn the lights on a half-hour later each day until a full day of daylight is reached.

Pigs Gain Fast—Pigs increase their weight 10 times the first six weeks of life, fastest gain of any farm livestock. Since the sow's milk accounts for most of this gain, L. C. Madison, Penn State extension livestock specialist, urges long nursing periods.

Practice Safety—You can never trust a bull, especially the "gentle" bull which may be a potential killer. Penn State extension agricultural engineers urge use of a safe bull pen.

Consider Customers—In planning what to plant, think of your customers as well as yourself, suggests H. P. McPeely, extension agricultural economist of the Pennsylvania State college. How much do they want, what kind do they want, and when do they want it are questions to answer in producing the crop.

Potatoes as Feed—Potatoes may be fed to dairy cows in amounts of 15 to 25 pounds daily, says R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Start with small amounts to get the cows accustomed to them and chop them to eliminate any possibility of the cows choking on the potatoes.

Produce Quality Eggs—Pennsylvania poultrymen have two incentives for producing high-quality eggs, according to W. F. Johnstone, extension agricultural economist of the Pennsylvania State college. First, consumers want high-quality eggs and are willing to pay for them, and secondly, there is strong competition from other states.

Environment Helps—Sensitive to environment, the farm family produces more and gets more out of life under improved living conditions. These reasons justify more emphasis on better rural housing and attractive farmsteads, says J. R. Haswell, Penn State extension agricultural engineer.

Look at Feathers—Live poultry buyers prefer well-feathered broilers

NEW DRUG HALTS CANCER IN MICE

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Detroit, April 20 (AP)—A new drug finds and hits an Achilles heel of cancers in mice, stopping the growth of the cancers.

It seems to do it by fooling the cancer cells into thinking the drug is something they need in order to grow. If they use the new substitute, they don't grow.

The drug apparently affects only cancer cells, thus hitting at a weak spot. For normal healthy cells don't need this same chemical in their diet, and thus don't take the substitute either.

This discovery is one of the because they require less time and labor in dressing, and the finished product has a better appearance, reports C. O. Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

bright new findings about cancer, offering the hope of one way of controlling it. It was announced Sunday to the American Association for Cancer Research by Dr. George W. Kidder, associate professor of biology at Amherst college.

The drug succeeded in halting or slowing down cancer growths in mice, he said. It is not yet known whether it will work in humans. It isn't ready to be tried now. More work must be done on animals, Dr. Kidder said. And maybe a better drug can be found through the same kind of work that led to this one.

The drug is named guanazole. It is just slightly different from another chemical, guanine, that the cancer cells in mice apparently need to grow and multiply. If they get the guanazole, their growth apparently is blocked.

In ancient Rome every freeman was permitted to wear an iron ring.

FEW SPUDS REMAIN
Pennsylvania potato growers apparently have done a good job of getting their big 1948 crop on the market. Despite the size of the crop, only 1,700,000 bushels were reported still on hand in March, as compared to 2,300,000 for March, 1948, and about 3,000,000 bushels in March, 1947. H. P. McPeely, extension marketing specialist, the Pennsylvania State college, says Pennsylvania potatoes have had wide distribution in other states.

The word money is believed to be derived from "moneta," an attribute of the Roman goddess Juno, because the ancient Roman mint was established in the temple of Juno Moneta.

The human body is so constituted that it functions best at temperatures of 60 to 70 degrees for those who wear civilized clothing, and at somewhat higher temperatures for unclothed people.
